

John Paul Mulchay
Branch Manager, Guaranteed Rate
NMLS# 375868
9121 W Russell Road, 210 Las vegas, Nevada 89148

Office: 7022679443 Mobile: 7022679443 Fax: 7022679443 jp.mulchay@rate.com View My Website

More Than Meets The Eye in Housing and Rates This Week

Some weeks are fairly straightforward with one defining moment and economic data that paints a unified picture. This was not one of those weeks!

Much of the economic data centered on the housing market. As you might imagine, sorting out the impact from recent hurricanes has been an ongoing struggle. Harvey had taken a bite out of Existing Home Sales the last time they were reported (for August). This time around, Houston actually helped housing numbers hold their ground.

The National Association of Realtors reported an increase in Existing Home Sales from a 5.35 million to 5.39 million units (annual pace). Overall, the Southern region was still a drag on the numbers, with the NAR citing temporary but noticeable declines due to hurricanes. In light of those headwinds, the national result is a pleasant surprise, especially with single-family homes being solely responsible for the improvement.

Housing data optimism should be tempered by the fact that weather-related delays will create regional improvements as old business is pulled forward.

Market Data

	Price / Yield	Change
MBS UMBS 6.0	100.09	+0.31
MBS GNMA 6.0	101.03	+0.29
10 YR Treasury	4.5138	-0.0657
30 YR Treasury	4.6711	-0.0579
Pricing as of: 5/3 5:04PM EST

Recent Housing Data

		Value	Change
Mortgage Apps	Apr 24	196.7	-2.67%
Building Permits	Mar	1.46M	-3.95%
Housing Starts	Mar	1.32M	-13.15%
New Home Sales	Mar	693K	+4.68%
Pending Home Sales	Feb	75.6	+1.75%
Existing Home Sales	Feb	3.97M	-0.75%
Builder Confidence	Mar	51	+6.25%

© 2024 MBS Live, LLC. - This newsletter is a service of MarketNewsletters.com.

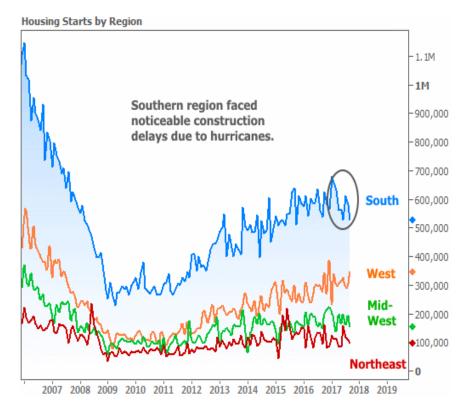

The interest rates provided in this newsletter are national averages from independent data sources. Rate/APR terms may differ from those listed above based on the creditworthiness of the borrower. All information provided "as is" for informational purposes only, not intended for trading purposes or financial advice.

We'll have a better sense of the bigger picture in a few months.

In terms of construction numbers, the regional downturn is easier to see. The hurricanes created a construction and permitting backlog that pushed the Census Bureau's official construction numbers lower in September.

As expected, the Southern region led the declines.

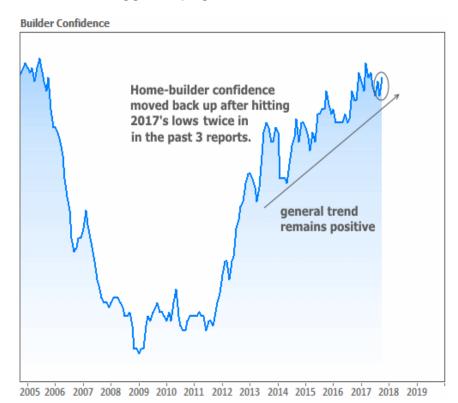

© 2024 MBS Live, LLC. - This newsletter is a service of MarketNewsletters.com.

The interest rates provided in this newsletter are national averages from independent data sources. Rate/APR terms may differ from those listed above based on the creditworthiness of the borrower. All information provided "as is" for informational purposes only, not intended for trading purposes or financial advice.

Read or subscribe to my newsletter online at: http://housingmarketweekly.com/jpmulchay

The silver lining here is that construction numbers are still due to experience that same sort of "pulling-forward" of weather-delayed business that benefited Existing Sales. Perhaps that has something to do with the uptick in home-builder sentiment as reported in the NAHB's Housing Market Index this week. Builder Confidence, while not as high as it was earlier this year, continues trending generally higher.

The most cautionary review of the weather's impact on the housing market came from Fannie Mae's Economic and Strategic Research Group, which said hurricanes could exacerbate a slowdown in the housing market. The caveat is that the report came out on Tuesday, before the resilient Existing Sales data, stable construction numbers, and much-improved builder confidence data.

On a less equivocal note, interest rates had a tough week. They began by moving gradually higher after hitting the lowest levels in several weeks last Friday. Rates caught their breath on Thursday as massive losses in Chinese stocks spilled over into the U.S., pulling US stocks (and rates) lower. But the rate spike resumed on Friday due to optimism over tax reform.

Here too, things aren't exactly as they might seem. On the surface, the relevant headline that started all of Friday's market drama arrived late Thursday night and had to do with the Senate passing a budget resolution. The resolution itself was of little consequence to stocks or rates. Instead, the WAY the Senate worded the bill set the stage for tax reform to be passed with a simple majority vote.

Stocks and rates responded in a major way.

Even though the move higher in rates was unequivocal, it's not without its saving graces. The most obvious is that the upward movement is playing out in a historically narrow range. Many lenders are still able to quote top-tier 30yr fixed rates at 4 percent or lower, even after Friday's rate spike. Moreover, as rates have risen from 2016's near-all-time lows, lenders have increasingly eased guidelines to allow more access to credit for potential homeowners.

© 2024 MBS Live, LLC. - This newsletter is a service of MarketNewsletters.com.

The interest rates provided in this newsletter are national averages from independent data sources. Rate/APR terms may differ from those listed above based on the creditworthiness of the borrower. All information provided "as is" for informational purposes only, not intended for trading purposes or financial advice.

Read or subscribe to my newsletter online at: http://housingmarketweekly.com/jpmulchay

The latest change comes from Freddie Mac which announced an improvements in the way it calculates debt-to-income ratios for those with student loans and other loans that are close to being paid-off.

Subscribe to my newsletter online at: http://housingmarketweekly.com/jpmulchay

Recent Economic Data

	Event	Actual	Forecast	Prior
Tuesday, O	ct 17
8:30AM	Sep Import prices mm (%)	0.7	0.5	0.6
8:30AM	Sep Export prices mm (%)	0.8	0.4	0.6
9:15AM	Sep Capacity Utilization (%)			76.1
9:15AM	Sep Industrial Production (%)	0.3	0.3	-0.9
Wednesday	y, Oct 18
7:00AM	w/e Mortgage Refinance Index	1399.6		1359.2
7:00AM	w/e MBA Purchase Index	242.9		233.2
8:30AM	Sep Housing starts number mm (ml)			1.18
8:30AM	Sep Building permits: number (ml)	1.215	1.250	1.272
8:30AM	Sep House starts mm: change (%)	-4.7		-0.8
8:30AM	Sep Build permits: change mm (%)	-4.5		3.4
Thursday, C	Oct 19
8:30AM	Oct Philly Fed Business Index	27.9	22.0	23.8
8:30AM	w/e Jobless Claims (k)	222	233	243
10:00AM	Sep Leading index chg mm (%)	-0.2	0.1	0.4
Friday, Oct	20
10:00AM	Sep Existing home sales (ml)	5.39	5.30	5.35
10:00AM	Sep Exist. home sales % chg (%)			-1.7
Wednesday	y, Oct 25
8:30AM	Sep Durable goods (%)	2.2	1.0	2.0
9:00AM	Aug Monthly Home Price mm (%)	0.7		0.2
10:00AM	Sep New home sales-units mm (ml)	0.667	0.555	0.560
1:00PM	5-Yr Note Auction (bl)	34
Thursday, C	Oct 26		:
8:30AM	w/e Jobless Claims (k)	233	235	222
10:00AM	Sep Pending Sales Index	106.0		106.3
1:00PM	7-Yr Note Auction (bl)	28
Friday, Oct	:27
8:30AM	Q3 GDP Advance (%)	3.0	2.5	3.1
	Oct U Mich Sentiment Final (ip)	100.7	100.9	101.1

Event Importance:

No Stars = Insignificant
Low
Moderate
Important
Very Important

The interest rates provided in this newsletter are national averages from independent data sources. Rate/APR terms may differ from those listed above based on the creditworthiness of the borrower. All information provided "as is" for informational purposes only, not intended for trading purposes or financial advice.

^{© 2024} MBS Live, LLC. - This newsletter is a service of MarketNewsletters.com.

Date	Event	Actual	Forecast	Prior
11:30AM	2-Yr Note Auction (bl)	13

Experience and Service

I absolutely love seeing the faces of new homeowners when they have their keys handed to them for the first time! Helping people achieve their dream of homeownership drives me to be my best every day. Honesty and transparency from day one through closing provide the foundation for client trust. I pride myself on providing my clients with the knowledge, experience, and creativity to make informed decisions when buying a home or an investment property.

My clients continually reward me with referrals citing customer service and comfort with the process. By ensuring my clients understand their decisions rather than simply 'do as I say,' they feel empowered and confident each step of the way. I believe in clients-for-life and that begins with the first phone call, reinforced by a successful transaction, and solidified with service after sale.

Currently licensed in Nevada and Arizona, I have been successfully financing residential real estate throughout the USA for the past 15 years using FHA, VA, Conventional, as well as Portfolio funds. Call now to get started!

John Paul Mulchay

