Calm Week to End Not-So-Calm Year

While this week was uneventful and while 2022 was more volatile in terms of movement in the housing/mortgage market, we can still reflect on 2023 as a year of extremes.

Incidentally, that thesis is supported by some of the only economic data released this week. Pending Home Sales came out perfectly unchanged from last month, but still at the lowest levels in a long time (not counting the 2020 lockdowns). Note that most of the move down to these lows occurred in 2022, before extending just a bit more in 2023.

Pending Home Sales Index

It's a similar story for interest rates. 2022 was marked by the largest change in mortgage rates in a single year since 1981, but 2023 took the outright levels just a bit higher.

Market Data

	Price / Yield	Change
MBS UMBS 6.0	100.40	-0.15
MBS GNMA 6.0	100.78	+0.04
10 YR Treasury	4.4223	+0.0454
30 YR Treasury	4.5610	+0.0549

Builder Confidence	Mar	51	+6.25%

30yr Fixed Mortgage Rate Index

On a more hopeful note, 2023 may end up being remembered not only for the extremes, but also by the start of the potential shift in rates and housing metrics. Strikingly, by the end of the year, mortgage rates nearly made it back to levels seen at the end of 2022.

30yr Fixed Mortgage Rate Indices

-MND -Freddie Mac -MBA

It was a similar story for the broader bond market, as seen in 10yr Treasury yields below. Stocks, meanwhile, mostly moved higher.

In terms of home prices, 2023 was notable in that Case Shiller's price index hit negative territory in year-over-year terms, but more notable because forecasts called for deeper, longer-lasting losses in late 2022. In other words, there's been an impressive ability to hold ground, even if a lot of the credit goes to a lack of inventory and a low transaction count.

It will be interesting to see how the inventory situation is impacted by lower interest rates (IF rates are able to continue moving lower). That's a big and important "IF." It will be resolved by economic data in the first quarter of 2023. The first batch of important data arrives next week with several key reports starting Wednesday. Friday's jobs report is the most important report.

Experience and Service

I absolutely love seeing the faces of new homeowners when they have their keys handed to them for the first time! Helping people achieve their dream of homeownership drives me to be my best every day. Honesty and transparency from day one through closing provide the foundation for client trust. I pride myself on providing my clients with the knowledge, experience, and creativity to make informed decisions when buying a home or an investment property.

My clients continually reward me with referrals citing customer service and comfort with the process. By ensuring my clients understand their decisions rather than simply 'do as I say,' they feel empowered and confident each step of the way. I believe in clients-for-life and that begins with the first phone call, reinforced by a successful transaction, and solidified with service after sale.

Currently licensed in Nevada and Arizona, I have been successfully financing residential real estate throughout the USA for the past 15 years using FHA, VA, Conventional, as well as Portfolio funds. Call now to get started!
