Rates Are At 2017 Lows, But So Are Home Sales

This week brought the release of New and Existing Home sales. Both reports fell short of expectations. Fortunately, central bankers also delivered less than expected, thus helping rates stay at 2017's lows.

Markets ended the previous week on the jog, with big moves on Thursday and Friday thanks to confirmed rumors of Steve Bannon's departure. Without a fresh supply of drama, trading was much less volatile this week.

Most investors focused on the Jackson Hole Symposium that began in earnest on Friday morning. Both Janet Yellen and European Central Bank (ECB) President Mario Draghi were on the agenda and both central banks are widely expected to adjust their bond-buying programs soon. Such adjustments tend to have a big impact on rates although they're gradually priced-in as central bankers drop hints.

Jackson Hole has historically served as a venue for such hints. As such, it's no wonder investors had a hard time getting over their anticipation, even as recent news suggested both speakers would stick the the script.

Trading ranges remained narrow as investors waited for Friday's speeches, but true to more recent reports, neither central banker shared any policy clues. With no further inspiration on tap, stocks and bonds held inside the week's increasingly narrow ranges.

That leaves stocks in a somewhat precarious position, but it's far from unpleasant for bonds. 10yr yields (the best proxy for momentum in longterm rates like mortgages) remained in line with recent lows. Mortgage rates themselves continued to outperform, pushing into their lowest levels since late 2016. Office: 7022679443 Mobile: 7022679443 Fax: 7022679443 jp.mulchay@rate.com View My Website

10yr Treasury Yield vs Mortgage Rates

Unfortunately, both New and Existing Home Sales also fell to the lowest levels of the year in reports issued by the Census Bureau and the National Association of Realtors respectively. This data wasn't of great interest to financial markets but it could get more interesting for the housing market. If year-over-year sales continue to operate near or below 0% in the coming months, it could signal the contraction that some economists were worried about last year. For now though, the drop in sales is isolated.

On brighter notes for housing, both Black Knight and the Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA) noted significant milestones in foreclosure and delinquency metrics. In separate data the MBA noted ongoing resilience in mortgage applications, thanks in large part to lower rates helping drive refi demand.

Experience and Service

I absolutely love seeing the faces of new homeowners when they have their keys handed to them for the first time! Helping people achieve their dream of homeownership drives me to be my best every day. Honesty and transparency from day one through closing provide the foundation for client trust. I pride myself on providing my clients with the knowledge, experience, and creativity to make informed decisions when buying a home or an investment property.

My clients continually reward me with referrals citing customer service and comfort with the process. By ensuring my clients understand their decisions rather than simply 'do as I say,' they feel empowered and confident each step of the way. I believe in clients-for-life and that begins with the first phone call, reinforced by a successful transaction, and solidified with service after sale.

Currently licensed in Nevada and Arizona, I have been successfully financing residential real estate throughout the USA for the past 15 years using FHA, VA, Conventional, as well as Portfolio funds. Call now to get started!
